

PH Cern

time at which the still picture data in the still picture group was recorded last. A recording time of the still picture data is compared with the first recording time. If the recording time is earlier than the first recording time, the content of the first recording time is replaced by the recording time and recorded.

---